lifestyle, travel, story-telling

20 / 12 / 1996 / Based in North East Scotland

For as long as I can remember I have loved the outdoors. As children my siblings and I were treated to happy camping holidays on the West Coast of Scotland, spending hours fishing, rockpooling and painting. Alongside my love for the outdoors was my passion for art. With a mother who was a talented knitwear designer and ex art student it was easy for me to let my creative side flow and flourish. With this support photography soon took priority, and at the age of 10 I received my first compact camera.

When I moved onto my first SLR I was privately tutored by Louise Kerr and Kyle Hamilton for several years before attending college. This also gave me the opportunity to voluntarily assist them for experience from 2010-2015. From there I studied my HND in Photography at NESCol and graduated in 2016, winning Best Work on the Wall at our end of year show.

After my graduation I decided to follow a different path and booked a one way flight to Australia via Thailand. Since then I have travelled around 20 countries around the world, growing a passion for travel photography, culture and a slow and appreciative lifestyle. While travelling I did several jobs for tour group. I also was delighted to achieve my first published spread for well-renowned Outback Mag, Australia.

In 2020 I finally took the leap into freelance work, resulting in dipping my toes in wide variety of exciting jobs. This included spending several months working in-house with Scottish Field Magazine, shortly followed by two years with independent Scottish eyewear and apparel brands Tens, Danielle Rattray and Dark North who I still have the pleasure working closely with. With this experience I now have an established style in Fashion, Product, Lifestyle and (back to my roots!) Travel photography.

"Jenny is a wonderful photographer and has excellent people skills too - a perfect mix of talents! I wouldn't hesitate to recommend her work. She spent an afternoon with me in the NW Highlands taking photos of my studio life and I very quickly forgot that she was holding a camera. Loved the results."

Rowena Dugdale, Red Ruby Rose

"Jenny has taken photographs for me twice now and I have been blown away by them. Jenny has a way of making you feel really relaxed and definitely has a unique ability to catch the moment in beautiful lighting. I wouldn't hesitate to recommend Jenny for both portraits or for product shots. Really good value and super professional."

Claire Bentley, Cookston Crafts
